The Christian faith may actually fare better if some Christians stop doing apologetics, even if they are exceptionally skilled at demolishing arguments that challenge the faith. "Thinking about Christian Apologetics: What It Is and Why ... 'Evangelism' is generally understood to mean sharing the good news message (gospel) about Jesus Christ. Apologetics is best seen as either pre-evangelism or as part of the process of evangelism. It removes barriers to belief and prepares the ground for the seed of the gospel to be sown. An Introduction to Christian Apologetics - bethinking.org Apologetics. Our resources seek to show why Christians believe that Christianity is true and worth believing. The shorthand term for that is 'apologetics'. It's what Simon Peter was writing about when he wrote: "Always be ready to make your defence to anyone who demands from you an account of the hope that is in you" (1 Peter 3:15, NRSV). Defending the truth of Christian beliefs against objections is important, as is the ability to communicate that truth effectively and attractively. Apologetics - resources from bethinking.org The definition of Christian apologetics is provided at the end of this examination as "the task of defending and commending the truthfulness of the gospel of Jesus Christ in a Christlike, context-sensitive and audience-specific manner” (p. 31). 6. Apologetics and Related Disciplines. Book Review: Thinking About Christian Apologetics: What It ...
